DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-15, drawn to a file management apparatus that switches between an encrypted key and unencrypted key to decrypt information, classified in class 713, subclass 193.
 - II. Claims 16-17, drawn to a file encryption apparatus that encrypts text with a key, then encrypts the key, classified in class 380, subclass 45.
 - III. Claims 18-35 and 37, drawn to a file management apparatus that decrypts text by switching between a password and a key, classified in class 713, subclass 202.
 - IV. Claim 36, drawn to a file encryption apparatus that encrypts text using a decrypted password and stored key, classified in class 380, subclass 44.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because group II adds a file key, which is further encrypted. The subcombination has separate utility such as encryption of plaintext with the file key.

3. Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because group III does not need the password to be input, but does include decryption. The subcombination has separate utility such as encryption in a similar method of group III, with an input password and no decryption method.

4. Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as encryption with only one file key, while group III needs 2 file keys, and uses a decrypted password. These inventions seem to be two similar, but different ways to manage encryption keys. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required each group is not required for the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Joseph Price on 9/28/2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. The number on file (949-261-8433) was disconnected. The examiner tried to find another number on the Internet, but only found the same number.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jacob Lipman whose telephone number is 703-305-0716. The examiner can normally be reached on 7:00 - 4:00 (M-Th).

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gregory Morse can be reached on 703-308-4789. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
